MUNICH, Sept. 30.—The Czechoslovakian problems disposed of, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler today signed an Anglo-German peace pact of far-reaching scope and importance.

After a two-hour private conference with the Fuehrer, held at Prague reluctantly agreed to the four-power agreement legalizing German invasion of the Sudetenland starting tomorrow, the prime minister announced that he and Hitler had signed a momentous declaration agreeing that consultation shall be the method of dealing with all Anglo-German questions.

Desire Never To Go To War

Both he and Hitler, Chamberlain declared, regard the agreement reached last night as satisfying the Fuehrer's demands in Czechoslovakia as "symbolic of the desire of our two peoples never to go to war against one another."

How many vitamins in your school lunch? How many children who eat school lunches can answer that question? How many teachers can tell the vitamin content of each article of diet in a school lunch? How many can tell the number of vitamins necessary to keep boys and girls healthy. These are all practical questions, yet how many of them can you answer. Probably you are like a lot of other folks. know more about baseball, football, movie stars and radio announcers, than you do about what you eat and its effect on the human body. Why this ignorance is hard to understand, but it is a fact that most people just eat anything that comes their way and hope for the best.

While reckless drivers are responsible for ten per cent of all motor accidents, the other ninety per cent often take chances that are responsible for many injuries and deaths. Too often the motorist who prides himself on being a careful driver, passes a car when the stretch of empty road that can be seen ahead is too short for safety. Too often he doesn't come to a full stop at a sign, goes under a yellow light, or sets over the fifty mile speed limit. We'll be a good way toward reducing accidents when the average driver does what he knows he ought to do. Accident prevention is a personal matter. Each individual has to really want to drive safely at all times before he can analyze his driving errors and correct them.

Sudetenland Will Be Occupied In Four Stages

(International News Service)
MUNICH, Sept. 30.—When German troops march across the German-Czech border tomorrow to begin their progressive occupation of the Sudetenland, they first will penetrate the Czechoslovakian frontier area in the southwestern part of the country.

Under the terms of the four-power agreement signed here last night and accepted by the Prague regime today the evacuation of Czech Sudeten areas and their occupation by German troops will be carried out in four stages. The entire process is to be completed by Oct. 10.

The first stage, to be carried out tomorrow and Sunday, covers the zone in southwestern Czechoslovakia north of the German cities of Linz and Passau. This area includes Waldern, Hohenfurth and other Sudeten towns situated along the Moldau river.

Second Stage

On Oct. 2 and 3, the second stage of evacuation and occupation will affect regions along the northern Czech border, including the cities of Bodenbach, Tetschen, Friedland, Schoenlinde, Gross Schoenau, Rumburg, Schluckenau and Warasdorf.

The next stage of the annexation process will be carried out on Oct. (Continued On Page Two)

Under Munich Accord German Troops Enter Sudetenland Saturday

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Czechoslovakia was given in effect less than 12 hours to accept the four-power Munich peace plan, ceding Sudetenland areas to Germany, or risk racing German military might against her.

This was revealed when it was learned that Britain and France informed the Czech government that it must accept the plan in full today, in the interest of European peace.

Although not in the form of a written ultimatum, the Anglo-French demarche to the Prague government, which was delivered to Czech representatives in Munich last night, constitutes virtually an ultimatum it was learned.

Czechoslovakia was given to understand that she could expect Anglo-French support against the Reich if she rejected terms of the Munich accord.

German Troops To Enter

Meanwhile, the four-power agreement, under which German troops will enter the Sudetenland tomorrow and will complete the occupation in ten days, was seen here as a great diplomatic victory for Chamberlain, who had delayed his threatened invasion of Czechoslovakia to engage in the momentous conference at Munich.

British authorities interpreted the agreement as meaning that Hitler will get Czechoslovakia on the installment plan without fighting for it.

This technique of progressive occupation, it was stated here, will make it unnecessary to hand Hitler the areas he demands outright, but at the same time will save the immediate peace of Europe, which was threatened to the breaking point by the Sudeten crisis.

Auto Men Hear Economist Speak

'Excellent Season Ahead,' Ed Payton Tells Dinner Crowd

FRANCIS PRESIDES
AT DEALER PARTY

A banquet audience of more than 200 automobile dealers and other representatives of the automobile industry in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio were assured by a nationally-known business analyst last night that a bright, promising business year faces them.

Speaking before the dinner group brought together at the New Castle Field club by the Lawrence County Automobile Dealers' association, Edward Payton, brilliant economist from Cleveland, predicted:

"Barring war, gentlemen, you should have an excellent 1939 season."

He based the forecast upon the potential purchasing power available to the motor industry in the used car market—and he told the audience that "this industry creates its own purchasing power." He told the group that no other business available to the small business man pays such large returns to the owners "if you have right management."

For over two hours Payton, acknowledged the country over as probably the most eminent authority in the automobile business realm, (Continued On Page Two)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—To a nation hysterical with joy over the sudden deliverance from the threat of war, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain came home from Munich this afternoon and found himself a national hero.

He famed Lutine bell of Lloyd's, used to tell of the fate of ships at sea and never for any other purpose, pealed out the moment the prime minister's airplane landed at Heston Airfield.

No statesman in the entire history of the empire ever had been accorded this honor—a recognition that the ship of state, foundering on the shoals of war, had been saved from disaster by his bold initiative.

News that Chamberlain had signed a peace pact with Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler before leaving Munich raised public enthusiasm over his solution of the Czechoslovak problem to an even higher pitch, and London turned out in a pageantry of welcome.

PRAGUE, Sept. 30.—Stunned and incredulous, Czechoslovakia bowed to the sword today and accepted with reluctance the grave misgivings the four-power decision allowing Germany to enter the Sudetenland beginning tomorrow.

Faced with no alternative in view of the agreement signed "without and against her," Czechoslovakia announced her surrender early in the afternoon. But even the sturdiest Czechs were staggered by what they are certain is nothing less than a fatal blow to their national existence.

There is not one who can be persuaded that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's troops will not eventually attempt to occupy the entire country instead of the Sudetenland alone.

Despair gripped those who listened to a British broadcast at 2 o'clock this morning announcing that Britain, France, Germany and Italy had decided to compel Czechoslovakia to submit, as they put it, to terms of dismemberment such as have never been imposed on any state in peace time and seldom on one defeated in war.

Report Poland Makes Demand

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Poland has served an ultimatum on Czechoslovakia, demanding an immediate reply to the Polish claim for surrender of the Teschen district, according to reports reaching here today.

Polish quarters in London, while they had no confirmation of reports that the ultimatum had been sent to Prague, said that a move of this kind had been expected.

It was believed that Prague has been given from 24 to 48 hours to reply.

Poles declare that the Munich agreement, discrimination against Poland since Germany was given the Sudetenland immediately while Poland, without its opinion being sought, is asked to wait three months before the powers agree to take action on cession of Teschen.

Hunt Tornado Debris For Victims

Heavy Damage At Charleston

At Least 26 Dead And 200 Injured Result Of Twisters

THREE STORMS IN QUICK SUCCESSION

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 30. Searchers today dug through deep piles of debris in search of additional victims in yesterday's triple tornado that took at least 26 lives and injured 200 other persons. Property damage was estimated at $2,000,000. Some of the city's most historic landmarks were among the buildings harmed. Of those killed 14 were white and 10 colored. A majority of the injured were negroes trapped in crowded dwellings.

Hit By Three Twisters

Meteorologists said three separate twisters hit the vicinity of Charleston in quick succession. The first and third swept across the outskirts and did little damage. It was the second one, roaring across the city in little more than a minute that wreaked the havoc. The Municipal Power Plant was thrown out of commission for hours and hampered rescue workers as darkness fell and there were no lights available. Even newspapers were unable to operate until late in the evening.

Among the buildings damaged were St. Michael's church, the French Protestant church erected in 1861, St. Philip's Episcopal church, built in 1870 and the 100-year-old city hall.

saved from complete dismemberment by the plan, it was pointed out that at the same time the Czech nation has been removed as a serious military obstacle to Nazi expansion to the east, and is now solely dependent for its continued existence upon the good-will of far-away powers.

To Establish New Frontiers

It is believed the Czechs will be compelled to establish new frontier defense lines, and if they do so these will be situated mostly in open plains dominated by the fortifications built by Czechoslovakia with French money. But henceforth these fortifications will be manned by Germans.

It is generally conceded even in British quarters that the Democrats were forced to pay a high price for peace, but it is emphasized that the price was "worth it."

Furthermore, the British feel that Hitler now realizes for the first time that there are limits beyond which the British and French will fight. It is hoped here that this realization will have a restraining influence upon Berlin in the future.

This especially is true as far as threatened resort to force by Germany is concerned.

It was believed here that four factors prompted Hitler to agree to the Anglo-French compromise plan for settlement of the Sudeten issue. These were:

Factors In Settlement

3 and 4. It will take in the Egerland area on the western Czech frontier, where it forms a spearhead pointing into the Reich.

During this stage the important cities of Eger, Carlsbad, St. Joachimsthal, Marienbad, Teichau, Mouda, Chodau, Fischen, Falkenau, Kadan, Graslitz, Asch and Franzensbad will fall under Nazi German domination.

The fourth stage of occupation will be carried out Oct. 6 and 7, affecting the Czech northeastern border, and including such cities as Jagerndorf, Freudenthal, Freiwaldau, Alstadt and Jaernau.

Remaining Sudeten districts, where the German population is not predominant, will be subjected to plebiscites under direction of an international commission.

Determine Other Areas This commission also will determine during the next few days what Sudeten areas not included in the four stages are predominantly German in population, and these will be evacuated by Czech troops and occupied by Reich troops by Oct. 10.

The new Czech frontiers have not yet been definitely fixed, but this task will be completed after the plebiscite is held.

It can be stated, however, that the annexation will give Berlin valuable material resources and many factories in which, under terms of the agreement, all installations must be handed over to the Germans intact. The border areas to be handed over to Germany and perhaps later to Poland contain most of the Czech industries and raw materials.

One valuable resource which will go to Germany consists of two large fields of lignite, one of which is in Egerland and the other in the northeast, near Aussig. If Poland obtains the territories she claims in the Teschen area, she will get valuable bituminous coal deposits.

Other areas to be occupied by Germany are sites of large glass, chemical, textile and paper plants, bituminous coal mines and automobile plants, as well as pottery and clothing works.

CHAMBERLAIN AND HITLER SIGN NEW PACT FOR PEACE

history-making declaration, the prime minister motored to the Munich airport, boarded his private plane and left for London at 2:30 p. m. (8:20 a. m. E. S. T.). "I have always had in mind," the premier said, "that if I could find a peaceful solution of this problem of Czechoslovakia, we should open a way to general appeasement in Europe."

"This morning I talked with the Fuehrer. We both signed the following declaration:

"We, the German Fuehrer and chancellor and the British premier have had a further meeting today and are agreed in recognizing that the question of Anglo-German relations is of first importance for our two countries and for Europe."

Symbolic Of Desires

"We regard the agreement signed last night and the Anglo-German naval agreement as symbolic of the desire of our two peoples never to go to war with one another again."

"We resolved that the method of consultation shall be the method adopted to deal with any other question that may concern our two countries, and we are determined to continue our efforts to remove possible sources of difference and thus contribute to assurance of peace in Europe."

When the prime minister had finished reading this historic declaration, adding the two great Anglo-Saxon powers to the peaceful negotiation so urgently recommended by President Roosevelt to the world powers during the nerve-racking crisis of the past week, he paused to let the words sink in.

Gradually the assembled correspondents came to the stunning realization that by a few strokes of the pen all enmity between Great Britain and Germany that hung over from the last war and all estrangement brought about by the Reich's withdrawal from the League of Nations under Hitler's regime had been wiped out, presumably for all time.

Drama In Moment

The declaration, if fulfilled to the letter, means that never again will Britain and Germany go to war. In fact, it means that if Chamberlain and Hitler signed the pact in all sincerity and their governments honor it, there may never be another war in Europe.

The drama of the moment was not lost upon the handful of newsmen privileged to hear this historic decision from the lips of the giant old man who was responsible for it.

The little he had left to say was anti-climatic. He formally announced Prague's acceptance of the four-power agreement and said that German troops with the blessing of Britain, France and Italy, would march into the first Sudeten zone of occupation late tomorrow.

He added the hope that in view of developments general demobilization soon would begin. The inference was that he already had discussed this important article with Hitler and that the Fuehrer presumably is ready to dismantle his present army of almost 2,000,000 men as soon as the other nations take apart their war machinery.

The Anglo-German agreement presents as great a victory for Hitler as it does for Chamberlain. For the Fuehrer, in his famous book "Mein Kampf" (My Battle) and in frequent public declarations has expressed his desire for a real and lasting peace between Germany and Great Britain, transforming the North Sea into a millpond instead of the angry expanse dotted with battleships in war array, that it has been in the last ten days.

Discuss Colonial Demands

Chamberlain said that he and Hitler discussed the question of Germany's colonial demands but refused to reveal any details of how far this phase of the conversations had progressed. He added:

"If further difficulties arise out of the agreement signed this morning, I hope they will be dealt with through ordinary diplomatic channels or, if the necessity arises, by direct talks between the heads of the European states."

Questioned regarding demobilization of the millions of troops called to the colors throughout Europe during the war scare, Chamberlain replied:

"We did not discuss dates, but we hope it will come about practically immediately."

Chamberlain added his talk with Hitler was a "friendly general discussion of all subjects of European politics."

The black-garbed prime minister was given a tremendous ovation as he left his hotel for the airport, accompanied by Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany. Men and women of all nationalities rushed forward and overwhelmed him with congratulations.

They fought like sharks his head or pat his back. Chamberlain was cheered along the entire route to the flying field, where a band played the British national anthem as his plane took off.

It is necessary for many school districts to increase their facilities, for taking care of more children. It is not known how many young people the new law will affect in New Castle, but the chances are that it will cause an increase in attendance.

An intensive campaign to increase membership in the Young Men's Republican club of Beaver county, is to be launched on next Monday evening. Plans for forming a Young Women's Republican club are also being made, with the object in view of securing one thousand members.

The Lincoln Republican club of Beaver county has long been an outstanding Republican organization in this end of the state, and the new move for two other clubs is encouraged to add greatly to the G. O. P. strength. Republican clubs are also being organized in Mercer, Venango and Butler counties, and it's likely that Lawrence county will be falling into line before the coming election.

Beginning tomorrow, October 1, Lawrence county will be relieved of paying medical and drug fees for persons on relief. Under the new set up these bills are to be paid by the state. Under the plan which has been in force recently the county paid the Lawrence County Medical Association five hundred dollars per month. The change will therefore save the county six thousand dollars a year. It is understood that incidents in need of medical attention will be allowed to call their own doctor, and there is a specified sum which the state will pay for the calls.

It is said that members of the Pennsylvania legislature are now tugging at their leashes in their desire to get home. It's not very long now until the November election, and some of them are going to have hard sledding in their efforts for reelection. Throughout the state there is considerable dissatisfaction over the manner in which some of the legislators have conducted themselves. There have been too many "yes men," and not enough independent thinkers. There is certainly no use in sending representatives down to Harrisburg if they allow themselves to be led around at the end of a string.

Mrs. Thomas James of Sunnycrest, New Wilmington road, reports that in 43 days there were 6,747 blooms on her morning glory vines. The 15 single vines are of the heavenly blue morning glory variety. A public address system, had been installed, thus taking care of the audience in No. 2 Court room.

Carl Hauber, president of Club No. 3 was chairman.

The chairman read a letter from Congressman Michael Kerwin of Ohio, regretting his inability to be present on account of his having been called to Washington, D. C.

Business Takes Turn Upward In Pittsburgh Area

Nominal Gain Shown Last Week By Business, Steel
Production Shows
Advance

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—Business in the Pittsburgh district continued on the upgrade with a nominal gain last week, the bureau of business research, University of Pittsburgh, reported today.

The bureau's index, showing an interrupted gain for six weeks, stands at a new high for the year,
it was reported.

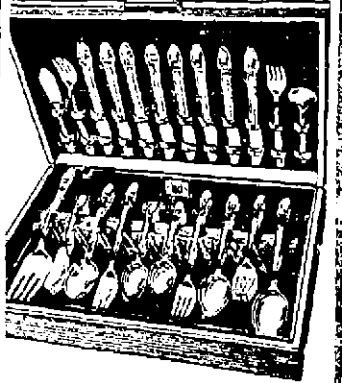

The index's average for last week
stood at 73.2 per cent of the 1923-25 average, five-tenths per cent more than the 72.7 average established last January. The 1938 low point, 66.8 according to the bureau came in the first week of June.

It was pointed out that recovery in the district since June has been more rapid than the January-to-June decline.

Steel production and trade activity showed marked advances last week, the bureau indicated, but rail shipments of coke, iron and steel along with river traffic showed losses.

This is perhaps all to the good,

A hellicose Englishman of today,

Expresses Joy*Saved From Horrible War
Nation Idolizes Prime Minister*HUGE ACCLAIM TO GREET CHAMBERLAINBy CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Snatched from the brink of war, a grateful England played in thanks for its deliverance today and sought some means of rewarding Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, idolized here as well as in France and Germany as the savior of European peace.

As immense crowds flocked to Westminster Abbey and other churches to express their gratitude in prayer, persistent pressure was brought to bear on King George to reward the gaunt 69-year-old former Birmingham alderman with a knighthood, the Order of the Garter and the Order of Merit.

Award of the Nobel peace prize for 1938 to Chamberlain also was widely discussed.

Huge Acclaim
Chamberlain's success in saving Europe, even at the expense of Czechoslovakia, from what would doubtless have been the most destructive war in history has won for him an acclaim unparalleled in history.

Messages from Munich telling of the hysterical ovation accorded the British premier on his every public appearance only served to whet the British appetite for its own demonstration. America had its Lindbergh and other nations their idols, but Britain has lacked a national hero since the Prince of Wales passed from the picture and Chamberlain is going to be it.

Predictions were freely voiced that the traditional reluctance of English folk to display their emotions in public will be thrown to the winds tonight when Chamberlain returns to his home capital and no one will be surprised if London even goes the whole hog and tears up ticker tape and telephone books to welcome him.

Pittsburgh Hotels Facing Threat Of Employees' Strike

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—The eight largest hotels in this city were faced with a strike of 2,300 service employees today as a stalemate was reached last night after a week's negotiations with an A. F. of L. union in regard to pay raises of 15 to 35 per cent.

The union has threatened to withdraw all the service workers tomorrow unless some agreement is reached with the managements, and no further conferences have been scheduled, according to John Bookjans, secretary-treasurer of the local Hotel & Restaurant Workers' International Alliance.

If no accord is reached more than 8,000 rooms will be unavailable on the eve of three important national conventions.

A bright ray, however, was cast by Attorney Francis T. Martin of Cincinnati, representing the hotel men, who declared some hope remained for an amicable settlement today.

governor also insisted upon the nomination of State Supreme Court Justice Charles Poletti for lieutenant-governor to replace Lieut. Gov. M. William Bray. Governor Lehman also was represented as having dictated a platform plank pointing to the achievement of a balanced budget under his administration.

In bowing to the demands of party leaders, the governor foreswore his personal aspiration to succeed the late Senator Royal S. Copeland for the abbreviated U. S. Senate term. Nomination for this contest will go to Rep. James M. Mead of Buffalo.

CZECHS FORCED TO ACCEPT FOUR POWER DECISION

official communiqué describing Prague's capitulation had been given to the public.

The cabinet debated how best to break the news, for there was widespread apprehension over serious demonstrations. Above all, there is profound anxiety as to how the Czech army will respond to orders to evacuate its fortifications and thus surrender the last chance of resisting the Germans if they choose to march further than the agreement provides.

Excitement Mounts.

Public excitement mounted as the news spread. Crowds poured into the streets in front of newspaper offices excitedly discussing the agreement. Police patrols were increased and ex-soldiers pressed into action to aid them.

Premier General Jan Syrový broadcast an appeal to the nation to remain calm.

"Time-table strangulation" was Czechoslovakia's description of the Munich pact. The Czechs pointed out that it means the victorious German army will invade the country comfortably over a period of ten days instead of an ardently longer time.

Bitterest to all of the Czechs is the knowledge they have been forced to their knees not by an open enemy but by so-called friends who not only deserted her but went over to the enemy and forbade them to lift a finger to defend themselves.

They analyze the Munich agreement as being so like the Godesberg memorandum drafted by Hitler that it seems odd to them that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain did not give in at once. The general Czech conviction now is that he only wanted to save his face and intended all the time to let Hitler have what he wanted.

Above all, Prague emphasizes that Munich has settled nothing but merely postponed the final settlement which it feels the world must eventually have with Hitler unless it is prepared to allow him to conquer all of Europe without firing a shot.

Yielded to Superior Force

Prague, Sept. 30.—Czechoslovakia yielded only to "superior force" in accepting the verdict of the Munich four-power conference, Premier General Jan Syrový declared today in a nation-wide broadcast appealing for calm.

"I took the decision in order to save our lives and our nation," he said.

"Superior force compelled us to accept. We had to choose between useless strife and sacrifice."

"We have chosen between the death of the nation and abdication of some territories. The nation will now be stronger and more united."

"I appeal to the people to maintain confidence in their leaders. As a soldier I had to choose a way to peace. Our nation will not be the smallest, and our understanding with our neighbors will be easier."

court yesterday without any defense testimony on the grounds Ivan I. Spear, the promoter, had failed to prove his case.

The jurors, who showed more interest in Dr. Dafoe than in the evidence during the two-day trial, crowded around him for an autograph after it was over.

"You know," one said, "we were ready to decide for you after the first day, but we wanted you to go on the witness stand. We thought we would hear something interesting."

"Le docteur" as the quints call him, took the whole proceeding in stride.

"I'm not surprised," he said when asked how he felt about winning the case. "I haven't been surprised at a thing since the night those five babies were born."

Almost shyly he remarked: "They sent me a telegram every day during the trial. They want to know where 'le docteur' is and when he will be back. They sent me their love."

Are Cuts Kids.

"Of course," he hastened to add as if not wanting anyone to think he was being mawkish, "they're just five little children. But they're cute, if I do say so myself."

Like the proudest of papas he was off again.

"We are teaching them pre-kindergarten things now, and they're quite quick. You should see them paint; some of the most modernistic things they are quite impossible to understand."

The big job, however, is to keep the quints from reaching too soon how unusual they are.

women fought their way through police lines to reach the premier's side and hail him as a savior of peace.

Deafening shouts of "Vive Daladier" and "Vive La Paix" told of French relief that the premier's participation in the four-power conference at Munich had played such an important part in pulling Europe back from the brink of war.

Police had to sail into the crowd with rubber truncheons and fists to clear a path to enable a delegation of children to present the premier with a bouquet of flowers. He was so overcome with emotion himself that he could not speak and was able to acknowledge the tribute only with a smile and tears.

Finally, however, Daladier stepped before a microphone and in a brief speech told the people of France that the Munich agreement had saved the peace of Europe.

"We shall now try to solve other European problems," he said. "I want to thank France for its discipline and calm in the crisis that has now ended."

Americanism: Requiring professional men to pass an examination before they can practice; hiring a man to manage public business because he cusses things we don't like. Liberalism in practice: Borrowing money to repair the wrecked ship so the crew can get back to work; using the money to pay the crew while the ship lies idle. Trio Make Stop Here In Trip From New York To Los Angeles

From New York to Los Angeles is a nice ride if you use the railroads or the planes. By roller skate it's something else again but three youngsters stopped over in New Castle last night and today on just such a trip, New York to Los Angeles by roller skates.

The three, Miss Ione Simpson, Jack Reed and Harold Gaines left New York City in the rain Tuesday,

September 20. By the time they reached Somerville, N. J., 32 miles away, they were forced to put up for the night. Since then they have been averaging 40 miles per day. The trip from Pittsburgh was made Thursday and late this afternoon they leave for Youngstown and from there for Cleveland. They figure they will be on the road about 70 skating days and hope to spend Christmas in Los Angeles. —BUY IN NEW CASTLE—

Dewey Accepts Nomination In New York State

Will Be Republican Candidate For Governor Of Great State

(International News Service) SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Into the hands of youthful Thomas E. Dewey today went the task of carrying the Republican party to victory in President Roosevelt's home state for the first time since 1922.

Accepting the Republican gubernatorial nomination, the New York district attorney assailed Tammany Hall and informed convention delegates that politics has become "the biggest racket of them all." He emphasized that the breaking up of an "alliance" between crime and politics would be his aim if elected governor.

Dewey expressed confidence of success in November even should he oppose Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, now the object of a draft movement at the Democrats' convention at Rochester. Moreover, the "racket busting" prosecutor will remain as district attorney of New York county until the end of the year and conduct the prosecution at the second trial of Tammany Leader James J. Hines on lottery charges in New York on Nov. 14.

Dewey attacked Tammany Hall and assailed that organization's alleged influence in Empire State politics, asserting:

"Without meaning to be so, any Democratic governor is, perforce, the good-will advertiser, the front man, the window dressing for what is in part, at least, a thoroughly corrupt machine.

"That machine is part of a system in which the political leader in many cases has become the tool of the gangster and in which the gangster's tool has commanded the co-operation of those who by all decent rules are supposed to be our most respected fellow citizens."

U. S. senatorial nominations were John L. O'Brien of Buffalo, for the six-year term and Edward Corsi, of New York, for a two-year term.

Adolph Sabath
... O'Connor successor?

Although Representative John J. O'Connor of New York, New Deal Democratic "purge" victim, did win the Republican congressional nomination in the Sixteenth district he is considered certain to lose the chairmanship of the house rules committee even if he wins in November as a Republican or as an independent Democrat. Most likely successor, according to Washington observers, is Representative Adolph Sabath of Chicago, above, dean of the house in point of service and a thorough-going New Dealer.

38-YEAR-OLD LUNCHEON IS FOUND INTACT

(International News Service) MARLIN, Tex.—About 38 years ago, a workman or picnicer of Marlin didn't get the tasty lunch prepared for him, it was learned recently.

Loving hands prepared a bread-and-preserve sandwich, a banana, a portion of cereal and other food. It was tidily wrapped in a paper sack—and that's the way it was, untouched by rodents or insects, when it was found where it apparently fell into a space between walls inside the building. The house had been built about the turn of the century and never altered since. Workmen tearing down the building found the lunch intact.

Increased Number Is Aided By Red Cross

Along the nation's highways, in underprivileged homes and isolated communities, in hospitals, military stations, schools, and on far-flung beaches, the work of the American Red Cross has been carried on in increasing volume. Harry Alexander, Roll Call chairman of the Lawrence County Red Cross Chapter, pointed out today.

In reviewing some of the work done locally and nationally by Red Cross workers during the past year, Mr. Alexander said that great strides had been made in reaching increasing numbers of Americans everywhere, and cited the fact that in the Red Cross campaign to eliminate accidents in homes and on farms, 15,000,000 householders had been advised how to eradicate existing accident hazards. The Lawrence County Chapter will conduct a survey later on the full program.

"Red Cross public health nurses made more than 1,000,000 visits to or on behalf of the sick during the past twelve months," Mr. Alexander said. "They are carrying out their work in communities where nursing and medical aid are not readily available, including homes in mountains, in small country towns, on prairies, and on isolated islands off our coasts. At the same time, these nurses have examined 559,187 school children for possible physical defects that needed correction, and where it was found necessary the proper treatment was arranged."

He said, too, that 295,028 persons had been qualified to stop bleeding, treat for shock, splint fractures, and give other emergency treatment following accidents, and that 86,150 persons had been trained in life saving and water safety in an effort to bring about drastic reductions in deaths from drowning.

"While there were only a few disasters of spectacular national importance during the year," Mr. Alexander said, "the Red Cross through this period has rescued, fed, clothed, and given nursing and medical care to 108,589 victims of floods, storms, explosions, and many other types of disasters. These have been scattered over 38 states and included ten types of natural catastrophes."

Mr. Alexander described the nation-wide campaign against deaths and permanent injuries on highways inaugurated three years ago by the Red Cross, and said that with 875 new stations reported in operation during the past year, the total number of emergency first aid stations has grown to 2,519. The Lawrence County Chapter's First Aid Chairman, Harry Cullford, is making final plans to dedicate the first highway first aid station in Lawrence county. This station is to be located at the Dewberry service station on the Youngstown road, both Ellsworth Dewberry and William L. Dewberry have successfully passed the first aid course and examinations that the National Red Cross office gives.

The Junior Red Cross, he said, had grown to be one of the largest youth organizations in the world, with more than 9,000,000 school children in the United States working to promote better international understanding with members of Junior Red Cross in 52 other countries. Albums and letters are constantly being exchanged and much international interest aroused in this way.

At the same time, he said, these Juniors are carrying on constructive work at home. Fred McLure, instructor in the Ben Franklin school is chairman of this Chapter activity.

The Red Cross service to enlisted men, disabled veterans and their dependants has helped solve the pressing problems of 270,000 men and their families during the past year, he added, and in smaller communities lacking local relief facilities Red Cross chapters have given sorely needed help to 120,000 families. Miss Bodenstien, executive secretary has handled to date over two hundred and fifty veterans' cases.

All this work, Mr. Alexander pointed out, is made possible by the annual Red Cross membership Roll Call, held each year between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Events Planned For Halloween
John Porter Is Named By Civic Club To Head General Committee In Ward
Announcement was made today by Raymond Horcher, president of the Seventh Ward Civic club, that a gala celebration for Halloween is being planned in the Seventh Ward this year.
According to Horcher, John Porter, well known local resident, has been named as general chairman of the various committees in charge of the events. Chairman Porter has not yet decided upon the date for the celebration, but stated today that it will be scheduled so as not to interfere with other celebrations planned in the district.
Full arrangements and plans for the Halloween party and celebration in the ward will be made at the next luncheon meeting of the Civic club, scheduled for Wednesday noon, October 12, in the Mahoning Methodist church. Date for the celebration will be determined at this time.

Two Ward Boys Get High Ranks
Albert Moss and Lawrence Spears Given Eagle Awards At Court Of Honor
It is quite an honor to a Boy Scout troop when one of its scouts is awarded an Eagle rank badge at a Court of Honor, but it is quite unusual when two boys from the same troop win this high award of scouting.
At the Court of Honor session held Thursday night in the First Baptist church, two scouts from Mahoning-town Troop 4, were presented Eagle badges by R. F. Green, Lawrence Spears and Albert Moss were the boys to be honored.
Winning the Eagle award means completing several years of hard, instructive and educational work. At the Court of Honor there were three to win their Eagle pins. They were the two local youths and one scoutmaster from the district, Wilfred Paul is scoutmaster of Troop 4, and Howard Tackitt is his assistant.

Apple Butter Is Cooked By Group
Annual Apple Butter Making Bee Staged On Church Property By McCoy Class
Apple butter season is here again, and Thursday afternoon members of the McCoy Bible class of the Mahoning Methodist church, gathered on the church property and cooked four huge kettles of the delicious apple butter.
Each year this class band together and makes apple butter on the church grounds. All afternoon four small outdoor fires burned low under four giant kettles, keeping the red-hued butter boiling and bubbling.
Many bushels of apples, pared and cut into pieces by the class members on Wednesday, went into the kettles Thursday.

Hull Sees New Era Of Peace
Hails Settlement Of Crisis In Europe—Affords Universal Relief
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The amicable solution of the German-Czech crisis, which shoved Europe to the brink of war, was hailed today by Secretary of State Hull as heralding a new era of peace and order.
He said the agreement between the four powers at Munich, and its acceptance by Czechoslovakia, affords the world "a universal sense of relief."
Hull made it clear that on behalf of the American government he was not undertaking to pass upon the merits of the controversy but hoped that from the Munich conference would spring a new foundation for peace and sound economic progress.
He called upon the nations of Europe to "redouble" their peace efforts, now that war has been averted.

The subject of the essays is "What the Community Chest does for children in New Castle and its surrounding territory." Pupils are to write not less than 100 words nor more than 300 words on the subject.
The following cash prizes will be offered: Seventh grade group, first prize $5.00, second prize $3.00 and third prize $2.00. Eighth and ninth grade groups will each be awarded the same amount in prizes. For the senior high school and the county high schools the prizes for each group are: first prize, $7.50, second prize $5.00, third prize $2.50.
Instruction sheets are being distributed today by the Chest headquarters to all schools participating. Each pupil desiring to compete is asked to gather all information possible from their parents and friends before writing their essay. It is also possible to obtain information direct from the Community Chest headquarters, 37 North Mercer street, across from the Free Public Library, or by calling 2572. The essays are to be neatly written on one side of the paper only, in ink or with type-writer. On the reverse side of the paper the contestant is to write his name, age, address, grade and school. No essays will be returned and the decision of the judges will be final.
In order to insure a fair and careful consideration of all essays submitted, the judging will be done by a special committee from the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. L. Gormley, president. Those serving on the judging committee will be Mrs. H. D. Hanlon, Mrs. H. R. McCulloch, Mrs. J. L. Vogan, Mrs. J. R. McClelland, Mrs. Ellen Kaplan, Mrs. Arthur Foster, Mrs. Charles E. Allen and Mrs. S. D. Pearson.
The last day to turn in essays is October 12. Pupils are urged to write their essays at once and hand them in to their room teacher. They will then be collected and turned over to the judging committee for selection of the winners. The announcement of the winning essay will be made after due consideration on the part of the judges.

Babson On High Sea, Gives Ideas On Ocean Spanning In Future

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1938, Publishers' Financial Bureau)

SHIPBOARD, SS SCYTHIA, Sept. 30.—I am always glad to be aboard a ship on the ocean. Probably this is because most of my ancestors were ship captains. They sailed from Boston to China, Africa, and the East Indies. Those shippers of a hundred years ago must have been great men. They had to be not only good navigators but also shrewd merchants and keen bankers. Remember, they had no radios nor cables, and but few light-houses to guide them!

Shipping Progress Slow
One of my great-uncles, Captain G. F. Low, ran a swift sailing packet between Boston and Liverpool. It carried passengers and freight and made the trip in 23 days. When we consider that the average trans-Atlantic liner today crosses in eight or nine days—at thousands of times the expense—we have not made too much progress. Of course, the Queen Mary makes it in four days, but this is a stunt. The Queen Mary is not a self-supporting business proposition and yet the fare is so high that only the rich can use her.

Most all modern ships are now subsidized by their governments. They must have help because their expenses are gigantic and the tariff barriers on the cargoes they carry are so high. The old sailing ships got their power free from the winds. Sometime when oil begins to give out and governments have exhausted their credit, you will see more sailing ships on the seas—at least, more sailing ships carrying cargoes. They will require more crew than steamships; but larger crews will help to cut down unemployment.

Great Future For Aviation
As for oceanic passenger travel, I believe that within a few years it will be mostly by air. The present super de luxe steamships will become as antiquated as the horse and buggy. By air it will be only an overnight trip from New York to London or Paris. It will also be a safe trip because three airships will go hitched together one above the other "pick-a-back" style. Then if one gives out, the other two will carry the lame duck along.

These airships will travel 20,000 feet above the earth to be free from storms and fogs. Owing to the short time required, the fare can be made very low, say fifty dollars. In fact, as soon as the transcontinental airplane companies emerge from the experimental stage so they will not have to present fabulous depreciation costs, you should be able to travel between New York and Los Angeles for thirty-five dollars, or between Chicago and Florida for twenty dollars.

Selling Point For Steamships
While airships are becoming safer every day, steamships are also eliminating dangers. They are being fitted with automatic sprinkler systems and other protection against fire. They have submarine signals and radio communication between ships and shore as well as between ships. Now, radio engineers are perfecting a fog-piercing ray and an iceberg detector. I am sure that I am safer today on this ship than you are on the streets of your community.

The biggest hope that steamships have against air competition is their vast capacity. Millions of people feel that a ten day or two weeks cruise is the best relaxation possible. Hence, those who have the leisure will continue to prefer to cross the ocean by boat, but the steamships will lose much lucrative business. The maritime labor problem is still bad too, although it is better than a year ago. At that time the situation was impossible, but Joseph Kennedy's Maritime Commission snuffed it out to a considerable extent.

Own Some Aviation Stocks
For many years I have not cared for securities of shipping companies. I prefer to hold the securities of industries that have a great future. That is why I believe that everyone should own some aviation securities. The industry has tremendous possibilities. It is in that stage of the industrial life cycle where the maximum risk is gone, but the maximum growth still lies ahead. Stocks of many other industries are also attractive now because of the bright business outlook.

When I sailed for England a year ago, business was just starting its tailspin. It hit the ground with a bump and a lot of people were hurt. The situation today is exactly the reverse. The low in business was reached on June 8. Since then there has been an increase of 11 per cent as far as the United States is concerned. Moreover, war scares, hurricanes, and the like have not yet halted the sharp upswing. On the day I sailed business was at a new peak for 1938 and still rising. Now, what about conditions in Europe?

European Business Poorer?
I fear that while business has been improving in the United States, it has been falling off in Europe, particularly in Great Britain. My boat reaches England on Tuesday. From London, I go to Holland, Belgium, Germany and France. In the next three weeks, I will tell you what I find in these countries for I know that everyone is vitally interested in the outlook for war or peace.

Wheat Insurance

Is Eagerly Sought
Applications Exceed Nation's Goal, Conservation Committee Here Is Informed

In 20 states throughout the country more than 180,000 wheat growers have applied for the Government's new all-risk wheat insurance policies on their 1939 crop, as of August 31, according to the Lawrence County Agricultural Conservation Committee. This, it is stated, exceeded by more than 30,000 the original goal of 150,000 set for that period.

With the deadline, September 30, the last day to file applications for policies, rapidly nearing, supervisors and county agricultural conservation committees in Pennsylvania wheat-growing counties are making an effort to contact as many growers as possible. Notwithstanding the short space of time in which it was necessary to setup insurance-writing machinery in this State, farmers in many of the counties show a sharp demand for the policies.

Those farmers, who have not been contacted are urged to get in touch with their county agricultural conservation office in order to secure applications.

Interior Walls Of Post Office Rich In Fossils

Geology Students Study Various Kinds Of Fossils Contained In Marble

Fossils which are interesting in the study of geology will find a rich field in the lobby of the new Post Office, whose marble walls are filled with fossils of various kinds.

There are huge specimens five and six feet long, which may have been fish, as the flesh of fish contains cellular structure such as seems to be represented. Then there are smaller specimens, which seem to have been schools of small fish, caught in the mud. There are also shells of various kinds, many of which are similar to the shells found in our streams today.

According to George Mitchell, custodian of the building, students often come to the place to make a study of fossil life represented. A Pitt student having recently spent several hours there and made copious notes on his findings.

If you have never noticed these fossils before, take a look the next time you are in the post office. You will be agreeably surprised.

Ask Parents' Aid In Child Health

School Health Director Sets
Down Rules Of Health
For Youngsters

In an effort to decrease the chances of illness among school children, Dr. D. H. Eckles, school health director, has prepared a set of suggestions which are being sent home to the parents of children entering school for the first time this year.

The suggestions follow:
Parents are responsible for the health of their children. When health is threatened the family physician stands ready to assist. The function of the school is primarily educational.

What The Parent May Do To Promote Health

Provide a balanced diet. Put nutritious food in first place on the family budget, ahead of needless luxuries.

Maintain an atmosphere of affection and security about the home without being overindulgent toward the child.

Have the family physician make a thorough examination at least once yearly. Correct physical defects found.

Obtain medical advice whenever the child is not well. Never send a sick child to school exposing others to the danger of epidemic disease.

Insist on own home being quarantined when contagion is present.

What The School Does To Promote Health

Provides a safe, hygienic place for the child to play and study.

Observes quarantine laws by excluding sick children.

Insists on smallpox vaccination according to state law.

Actively works for the protection of every child against diphtheria. Offers toxoid to those who have not previously been immunized.

Provides first aid for minor injuries sustained at school or on the way to school.

Provides a brief medical examination for grade school children. Hearing is tested with the audiometer in the case of children eight years of age and over.

Teaches good health habits.

Start Hearing On Wage Issue

Fact Finding Board Hears Appeal Of Railroads For Wage Cuts

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The major railroads of the country today asked President Roosevelt's fact-finding board to recommend a 15-per cent wage cut for their employees as "a powerful aid to national recovery."

Speaking as the chief counsel and opposing witness for the carriers, J.
Carter Fort, attorney, told the board the railroads are in a "desperate financial condition" and that wages must be reduced because they are "unreasonably high."

His statement was made only 24 hours before a called strike of the 900,000 rail workers, and the proposed 15-per cent pay-cut they faced would both have become effective had not President Roosevelt taken the unusual step of creating a three-man fact-finding board to evolve a peaceful compromise settlement.

New Yorkers Prepare For Second Storm

Rain And Snow Precede Another Tropical Blow Headed For New York City

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—New York got ready for another "big blow" today as the disturbed atmospheric conditions which brought a triple tornado to South Carolina moved up along the Atlantic coast.

The storm here arrived as rain which suddenly changed to snow to give the city its first premature taste of winter.

The weather bureau reported that the disturbance this morning was 100 miles off the coast of Maryland and moving northeast but slowly decreasing in density.

The center of the storm was expected to pass east of Nantucket late this afternoon or tonight. North-east gales reported along the coast from the Virginia capes to New York along the New England coast would, it was believed, shift north and northwest and diminish as the day wore on.

Increasingly strong winds and heavier rain were expected in New York and on Long Island, still recovering from the effects of last week's hurricane.

Tells Of Events Preceding Death Of Mary Spear

Woman Held As Witness In Case Tells Officers Of Events Of Night

Following several days confinement as a material witness in the city jail to the murder Tuesday of Mary Spear, 70, allegedly by Myrt Cox, 41, Mrs. Maude Hicks, 44, 36½ South Jefferson street, today told Chief of Detectives Ray Showalter of events preceding and following the shooting of the spinsters.

She claims Cox threatened her and, at Miss Spear's invitation, went to the latter's room. Cox kicked on Miss Spear's door, stopped and turned out the light in his room. Miss Spear said she would call police. Mrs. Hicks advised against it, she said.

Miss Spear went out the door. Mrs. Hicks then locked it. Mrs. Hicks asserts she heard a mumble and a shot. Some time later Mrs. Hicks said she left Miss Spear's room and found the woman on the hallway floor. She then went to the Post Office lunch and alarmed police.

Cox is still at large.

Reception Is Well Attended

Westfield Members Pay Homage To Trio Of Presbyterian Ministers

AFFAIR FOLLOWS WORSHIP SERVICE

Around 350 people gathered in Westfield church Thursday night for a service preparatory to World Communion Sunday and a reception honoring three prominent Presbyterian ministers. Dr. Clarence Edwards Macarney of Pittsburgh, his brother, Dr. Albert Joseph Macarney of Washington, D. C., and Rev. Clarence W. Duff, just home from Ethiopia.

The Pittsburgh minister delivered the preparatory sermon. It was evangelistic in nature and of timely and absorbing interest. Dr. Macarney used as his subject, "Come Before Winter." Assisting in the service were Rev. Duff, Rev. Ross Haverfield, a former Westfield pastor, from Monongahela, and Rev. D. C. Schnebly of the Mahoningtown church.

At 9 o'clock the reception and social hour began. Mrs. Clarence Duff and Mrs. Haverfield were among those in the receiving line. A program was presented during the hour, with Westfield's young pastor, Rev. Edwin A. Snookmaker, recently elected moderator of Shenango Presbyterian, presiding.

Howard Gilmore gave a vocal selection. Dr. Macarney from Washington, a former Westfield pastor, spoke on "Memories of Westfield." Rev. Duff gave a brief talk of his experience during the momentous past three years in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, telling of the risks and lawlessness which followed Haile Selassie's departure. A vocal duet was offered by Mrs. Clarence Snookmaker and Miss Miriam Wallace. Greenies were brought from the First Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, was Dr. Macarney, and from Monongahela by Rev. Haverfield.

Refreshments were served in the nearby grange hall at the close.

Another preparatory service will be conducted tonight at 8 in Westfield. Dr. Albert Joseph Macarney, pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian church of Washington, will preach.

FALL GARDEN CLEANUP HALTS PLANT DISEASES

Don't overlook cleaning up the flower garden this fall.

One of the simplest and most effective measures for controlling diseases of flowers is the fall cleanup. In cleaning the garden, fungi are destroyed that would otherwise overwinter on the dead plant parts and perhaps cause serious damage in 1939.

Diseases carried over winter on dead leaves and stems and which may be checked by the destruction of these parts include destructive blight and leaf spot of peonies, black spot of delphinium, iris leaf spot, and powdery mildews which attack phlox, zinnias, and delphinium.

It is suggested that the cleanup program be started as soon as possible after the first frost to prevent falling leaves from remaining on the ground for more than a short time. The most effective control of diseases in flower gardens requires that all diseased plants parts be removed and destroyed promptly.

HOME GARDENS SOURCE OF MANY SALAD CROPS

At no time of the year is there a wider variety of vegetables available in the average home garden for use as salads or greens than during the autumn months. Among the most popular which require some special attention are celery, endive, Chinese or celery cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower and brussels sprouts.

Yellow varieties of celery may be bleached with paper collars, tile, boards or regular bleaching paper. In normal weather, one to two weeks is sufficient time for bleaching. Banking earth against the stalks may cause rust or other troubles. Yellow varieties do not store well.

Much better suited for storing are the green varieties. In addition to the bleaching methods mentioned for the yellow types, gradually drawing soil against the row will keep the new growth bleached in preparation for storage. Green varieties require a longer period of bleaching.

In bleaching endive, it is desirable to permit the plant to develop to about a foot in diameter with the plants about a foot apart. The old method of drawing the outer leaves over the center and tying with a string is satisfactory provided wet, warm weather does not follow to cause rot. Most gardeners have better success with covering the row with burlap or canvas to exclude the light and yet provide ventilation.

When the heads of cauliflower are several inches in diameter, the leaves may be broken inward over the head or tied to exclude light. Chinese cabbage and broccoli require no bleaching.

FIRST FROST A CALL FOR STORING BULBS

After frosts have injured the tops of dahlias, gladioli and other tender summer flower plants, dig the roots as soon as possible.

Cut off stems of dahlias about four inches above the tuber. After the tubers have had an opportunity to dry, remove the dirt which clings to them, and then place in a shallow box for storage in a cool part of the basement. A good practice is covering the tubers with dry sand.

The general method of handling gladioli after digging is to give them an opportunity to become thoroughly dry before cutting off the stems about an inch or two above the crown. Then the crown is placed in a paper bag and stored in a cool, dry place.

DEEP, BROKEN LITTER PROVIDES INSULATION

For the past few years a number of Lawrence county poultrymen have followed the practice of using a small amount of straw for litter when housing their pullets in September and October.

build a deep layer of finely broken material. This serves as insulation, protecting the floor against sudden changes in temperature. Failure to cover the floor may cause the moisture near the floor to condense with a sudden drop in temperature and wet the litter. Damp litter causes soiled feet which means dirty eggs.

Litter should be removed near the foundations and the front of the house if it becomes wet. Already broken material may be used to cover these areas. From time to time they add clean straw, and as the winter progresses, feed some scratch grain in the litter is desirable with this system.

REPAIR FURNITURE AND RESTORE TO USEFULNESS

Attics and storage places in many homes often are guilty of harboring worthless pieces of furniture—chairs that need reupholstering or new upholstery.

Satisfaction is derived using something discarded or stored away. Take a peep into the attic or storage room. You may find just the chair you want for the desk but it may require a slip cover, refinishing or reupholstering.

Reupholstering may be done at home and if well done means a saving of money. Mending and refinishing the frame often are necessary before undertaking the upholstery.

For best results, follow each step carefully.

1. Remove old covering, packing and all tacks. This is important because the foundation should be firm and there should be room for new tacking. Observe every detail of construction as you remove the

STATE IS FIFTH IN POTATO PRODUCTION

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—Pennsylvania ranked fifth in potato production on September 1 among the forty-eight states despite a crop greatly reduced by blight and unfavorable weather conditions.

Pennsylvania's 1938 harvest is estimated by the State Department of Agriculture at 22,581,000 bushels, compared with 25,215,000 bushels in 1937 and a ten-year average of 25,298,000 bushels.

The indicated average yield for the State this year is 117 bushels to the acre, compared with 123 bushels last year and a ten-year average of 119 bushels. The State's 12,000 commercial growers average 250 bushels to the acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Scofield, and daughters Vera, Betty and Joanne, and Mrs. Mary Scofield, of Clark's Mills, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben McDowell.

TELLS TALL STORY OF HUNGRY CROWS AND BAKED SPUDS

(International News Service)

PROSPECT, Conn.—Oh yeah! A local gardener decided he would have to protect his early planted potatoes because of the cold weather.

He laid a number of electric wires between the rows to keep the ground warm during the night.

But several hundred crows found out about his plan and decided the warm patch would be a good place to roost.

The heat from the wires, plus the heat from the crows' bodies, baked the potatoes.

The crows discovered what happened, dug up the spuds and had them for breakfast before flying away.

The farmer says he's now "stuck" with a thousand feet of electric wire and an electricity bill.

But neighbors say he also has his story!

Chest Helps Mission To Carry On Its Work

Editor's Note: This is the fifth of a series of articles to familiarize the public with the activities of various local agencies assisted by the New Castle Community Chest.

Back in 1912, when New Castle was in the throes of an industrial depression, The Rescue Mission was founded.

Since that time, more than 20,000 men, women and children have been fed, clothed or sheltered and sent on their way rejoicing. Throughout its 26 years of existence, The Rescue Mission has held the reputation of never having turned a deaf ear to the pleas for aid from the thousands who have appealed to its officers.

Upholding this reputation would have been impossible were it not for the help received from the Community Chest, W. A. Gibson, superintendent, said today.

"Our very existence depends largely upon the Community Chest," Mr. Gibson said. "It would be impossible for us to carry on without the financial assistance we receive from this benevolent organization," he added.

Day in and day out The Rescue Mission aids the unfortunate, not only itinerants, but local residents as well. Economic conditions which followed the depression greatly increased the burden of the mission but we have gone forward bravely dependent upon contributions and appropriations such as provided in the Community Chest budget.

Mr. Gibson today related one of the many benevolent acts the mission performed in the application of its year-round program.

Last winter an unfortunate couple with their five children, one of them a 10-month old infant, were stranded on the outskirts of the city. Their dilapidated automobile had broken down and they were penniless. They applied to the Rescue Mission for aid.

For the first time in three days they were given a warm meal. They were sheltered for the night and their threadbare clothing replaced. The next day, after their automobile was repaired the tank was filled with gasoline and they were sent on their way.

More than 400 itinerants, such as this poor family, are cared for each winter by the mission. The 16 beds at the headquarters on South Mercer street are spotlessly clean and they are seldom vacant during the cold weather months.

The mission, in addition to being a relief organization, boasts of rest and reading rooms and a restaurant. In reality it is a poor man's hotel, a place dedicated to the reconditioning and rehabilitating human beings who have been made destitute in most cases, through no fault of their own. They are the remnants of human life which are cast from place to place seeking employment. Most of them are enroute to their families, or friends or relatives.

Every city in the country has faced the problem of caring for destitute itinerants during the depression.

And, New Castle has been no exception. But thanks to the Rescue Mission the help here has been carried on nobly and with dispatch and no one has left the city without the helping hand of friendship and charity extended toward them. It is truly a haven for the homeless, the hungry and where warm clothing may be obtained. In addition, they are extended spiritual aid and their faith in God rejuvenated.

Each Christmas, hundreds of baskets of foodstuffs are distributed among the needy in the city, and at Thanksgiving, needy children are served a fine dinner. Itinerants are also extended this courtesy during the holidays.

In addition, a picnic is held each year for the poor families of the district and a fine program of games and athletic events carried out.

The Rescue Mission is but one of the nine agencies which benefit annually from the drives for funds by the Community Chest. All of them are dependent upon the chest for financial aid. But probably none of them is more worthy than the mission in its exemplification of the virtues of charity.

Correct this sentence: "We have enough, John," said she, "and it's silly to think about how much more the neighbors have."
The thing overlooked by cranks is that capital is canned labor. Jones has $1,000 to invest because he earned it and didn't spend it.

Historic Date Says Daladier

French Premier Sees Wide Spread Effect In Agreement At Munich

(International News Service) MUNICH, Sept. 30.—The Four-Power Munich Conference and the agreement it perfected "marks a historic date in the life of Europe," Premier Edouard Daladier of France declared today as he boarded a plane for Paris.

"Thanks to the high understanding of the representatives of the great western powers," he said, "war has been avoided."

"An honorable peace has been secured for all peoples."

"I had the pleasure of seeing for myself there is no feeling of inferiority or hostility in Germany toward France. Be assured that the French themselves have no hostility toward Germany."

"This was true even in the period of diplomatic high tension and military preparations we have just been through."

"Our two peoples should be able always to agree cordially. I shall be happy to devote my strength to this necessary and fruitful understanding."

Caliphs Frolic In Fall Class

Parade, Vaudeville, Degree Work And Eats Feature Thursday Night

Most successful of any party held in five years, the Caliphs of Baghdad held their fall ceremonial in the Cathedral Thursday night with nearly 500 of the faithful present. Members from several adjoining counties were present and the fun lasted from seven o'clock until midnight.

A parade headed by the Scotch Kiltie band opened the evening's festivities. From the Cathedral the Caliphs paraded downtown to the public square and up Jefferson St. At eight o'clock the degree work was exemplified with a large class taking the work.

Eight acts of vaudeville followed the acts being Johnny Morris, comic, Davis and McCoy, comedians, Corn Kowell songs and dancing, Zoltan dancing, Jean Carr, interpretative dancing, Stokers Brothers, acrobatic, Kid Ritchie, tap dancing and Ray Styles, master of ceremonies. Harry Williams was at the piano.

A Dutch lunch finished the evening in the dining room. So successful was the evening that a Ladies' Night is already being planned for some time later in the fall.

THE TEACHINGS OF JESUS

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday Lesson

The Golden Text

Deuteronomy 6:5—"Thou shalt love Jehovah thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul and with all thy mind."

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Oct. 2 is the first of a three-month course on "The Ten Commandments, and the Teachings of Jesus" this first one on the topic, "The One True God" being based on Exodus 20:2-3; Isaiah 45:22; Mark 12:28-34; I Cor. 8:4-6, the Golden Text being Deut. 6:5 "Thou shalt love Jehovah thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul and with all thy mind.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
The essence of true religion is love. Not fear, but love; not fear nor personal advantage must be its motives, but love and love alone. Even God's law being a revelation of his person as well as his precepts is grounded in love.

The Person Of God
As without a center there can be no circumference, so the Person and the Precepts of God stand related to one another, a knowledge and love of the Person being essential to a respect for his precepts. So God logically introduced his Person preparatory to promulgating his precepts: "I am Jehovah, thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me." Jehovah's love for and his redemption of Israel were to be the basis of Israel's love for and obedience to Jehovah. God's redemption of them from Egyptian bondage was not conditional upon their obedience to the Ten Commandments, but was the free gift of God's grace in gratitude for which their obedience was asked. It is never after this same order: "We love him because he first loved us." What God is and has done for us gives color to his every precept.

The Precepts Of God
Quite properly the first of these precepts has to do with our relation to our redeemer God. Our duties to God introduce our duties to our fellowman. "Jesus answered, the first is, Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one; and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength. The second is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these. Supreme love expresses all there is to religion; the outflow of God's love to us and the back flow of our love both to him and to our neighbors in appreciation of his love to us. But it is to be the utmost of love of which we are capable, giving to God the full measures of the affection of our hearts, the devotion of our souls, the thoughts and reasonings of our minds and the service of our strength. In every realm of our being God is to be enthroned as Lord of all. This preeminence in all things is to be given him not only for his glory, but for man's own good. "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God and there is none else." Apart from God no blessedness is possible for us. "To us there is one God, the Father, of whom are all things and we unto him, and one Lord Jesus Christ, through whom are all things and we through him." St. Augustine expressed it saying, "Thou hast made us for Thyself and the heart of a man is restless until it finds its rest in Thee."

Says Auto Taxes Cut Realty Levy

Gas Taxes Help To Reduce Levy For Township
Roads

RURAL DISTRICTS RECEIVE BENEFIT

By ROY E. BROWN, MILLER
Secretary Of Highways
HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—Every Pennsylvania motorist knows that he helps to finance the State Highways System of 40,800 miles by payment of gasoline taxes and motor license fees.

But few are aware, perhaps, that part of their tax dollars lighten the real estate taxpayers' burden by being applied to upkeep and construction of roads not a part of the state system.

During the present administration a total of more than $55,000,000 in financial benefits has been granted local governments by the state, representing cash returns to the counties from gasoline tax collections, state contributions toward township road maintenance, and reductions in local road taxes.

This money not only enabled local governments to make needed improvements in their own highways system but also relieved real estate taxes of the necessity of raising a corresponding sum through taxation.

Even this impressive total does not take into consideration the costs saved the townships, boroughs and cities by state acquisition of the rights of their highways under acts of the legislature during the past four years.

Not only have the townships benefitted through transfer of their highways to the state system but their load has been further reduced by state appropriations toward the maintenance cost of the remaining 44,000 miles of township roads.

Since the state contributes this money, amounting to approximately $20,000,000 during the past four years, the job of supervising its expenditure is up to the state highway department, adding another duty to its many tasks. At the same time this brings a 24,600 miles the highways for upkeep of which the department is in whole or part responsible.

Four years ago the taxpayers of the 1317 second-class townships in the state were subject to road levies totaling $6,825,235. These taxes were reduced in 1935, 1936 and 1937 and rose only slightly this year. The cumulative decrease in total taxes during the four-year period represents a saving of $3,300,000 to local taxpayers.

In addition, the state government returned to the 67 counties a total of $25,500,000 as their total shares of the liquid fuels (gasoline) tax.

Farmers Given Rules For Safety

Farm Machinery Cause Of Many Disabling Accidents

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—Rules of safety for the farm, where the machine now causes more accidents than the animal according to a recent survey by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, were issued today by J. Hansell French, State Secretary of Agriculture.

His hands and feet out of snapping rolls and feet out of snapping rolls.

"Keep clothing and hands from chains and moving parts—stop machine to oil and adjust."

"Keep hands out of husking rolls."

"Shields are for your protection. Keep them in place."

"Most farm accidents, like industrial, home and highway accidents, are caused by the failure of some individual to observe simple and fundamental safe rules or precaution. For this reason farm accidents, just as other types of accidents, can be prevented by recognizing the cause of accidents and doing something about it before the accident occurs."

"Regardless of the care used in the design and construction of farm equipment, there are many points that cannot be completely safeguarded without interfering with accessibility and efficient operation. A careful operator is the best insurance against an accident."

"The complete observance of one simple rule would prevent many thousand serious injuries each year. That rule is: Never attempt to clean, oil, or adjust a machine while in motion."

Cites Need For More City Parks

Secretary Of Internal Affairs
Says People Find More
Time For Picnics

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—Secretary of Internal Affairs Thomas A. Logue today said that certain types of areas, playgrounds, neighborhood playfields should be located where they may be easily reached by all the people of a city with a minimum of travel.

These areas, he said, are of primary importance because of the opportunity for daily use due to shorter work days and weeks and the expanding public interest in recreation.

Following a study of reports prepared by the division of planning and landscape architecture in the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs, Secretary Logue said that the need of out-of-town parks is slowly being recognized by the municipal authorities in their acquisition of sites. During the past few years there has been a rapid expansion in the number and acreage of these parks, with a corresponding development of hiking and bridge trails, picnic centers, swimming and boating facilities, camping and other activities. The need for cooperative park planning between federal, state, county and local authorities is increasingly evident, he added.

Judges W. Walter Abraham and Thomas W. Dickey will hold a session of court on Saturday morning, at which motions and petitions may be presented.

County commissioners were at Ellwood City yesterday in connection with a disposition of the toll bridge near the National Tube Company plant. The commissioners recently turned down a proposition to buy the bridge and the owners and the borough are now trying to get the state to take it over. A representative of the state was present yesterday, and took the matter un-

Judge Thomas W. Dickey has appointed William Hall inspector of elections in the third precinct of Shesango, following the resignation of Samuel Jones.

County Controller Frank Hill has returned from Harrisburg, where he attended a committee meeting of controllers interested in the passage of legislation that would result in an abatement of interest and penalties on delinquent taxes. Two previous legislatures have passed such legislation for limited periods. During that time Lawrence, as well as other counties throughout the state, have been able to collect large amounts of delinquent taxes.

The controllers organization believes it is a good way to get delinquent taxes cleaned up, but the proposition this time is meeting with considerable opposition. It is being opposed on the grounds that it is unfair to those taxpayers who have paid their taxes, and also that it should not become a fixed policy of the legislature to give abatements.

However, there is a strong block favoring the passage of such a law at the present session and Controller Hill is inclined to believe that it will pass. There are a great many taxpayers here who are awaiting the outcome of the bill before paying their taxes.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

(Material Gathered and Edited by Student Reporters)

SENIOR H-Y IN SESSION

The Senior H-Y club convened in regular session Wednesday evening at the "Y" with the newly-elected president, Dan Woolcock, in charge. Methods of collecting dues were discussed, and later various means of augmenting the now depleted treasury. After some deliberation, it was decided to join with the other clubs in sponsoring a skating party, and to conduct a Christmas card sales campaign since a similar one last year proved quite successful.

As program chairmen for the next three months, the following boys were appointed: For October, James Cook; for November, Sam Davy; for December, Glenn Gordon. Each will act with a self-appointed committee during his own month.

Following the meeting, the larger part remained to play ping-pong, pool, and billiards.

SCHOOL PLAY

All those pupils belonging to Ne-Ca-Hi dramatics class are working very hard to win a part in the coming school play. There is an abundance of talent among the students in this class, consequently, competition is keen and a choice is difficult to make. It is scheduled for Thursday night, October 13, 1938, at the high school auditorium. The play, "320 College Avenue," gives promise of entertainment and thrills.

THE DOBOBS

The Dobobs, alias Library squad, held their first meeting of the semester, third period in the library.

The meeting was mainly a "get acquainted" meeting in which Miss Westlake introduced each person in turn to the entire group. She welcomed the old members and new ones alike and urged them to make this staff one of the best.

At the conclusion of Miss Westlake's talk, the group opened nominations for the officers of the club. These officers were to be elected by ballot in each member's library period. The results of Dobobs election are:

Captain—Roy Denney.
Vice captain—Marie Gray.
Secretary—Patricia Blaise.
Treasurer—James Emerick.

GYMNASIUM CLASSES

The girls' gym classes began their semester Wednesday, September 28. The enrollment for this semester is 559 girls. The primary activities this week are to assign the girls to their various squads and to learn the rules for class conduct and to obtain the necessary articles of gymnasium clothing.

LUNCH PERIOD EXCITEMENT

During the lunch periods Thursday afternoon, exciting diversion was afforded the students just outside the front door on Lincoln avenue. It seems that a crew of men were engaged in pulling down a quite cumbersome elm and were having a difficult time of it. Hundreds of Ne-Ca-Hi's citizens stood about looking on, applauding the yeoman-like efforts of the crew who were heaving on a block and tackle. More than an hour was required to fell the tree.

This is but another of the diverse episodes which occur almost daily and which keeps the panorama of school life ever changing.

HALL MONITORS MEETING

The Hall Monitors' squad, one of the most popular and most important service squads in Ne-Ca-Hi, met in the auditorium to discuss plans and duties for the coming semester. Captains for each period were introduced by Charles Kereszty, head captain.

Miss Edith Birchard, supervisor of the squad, gave a short talk on the duties of a monitor, stressing courtesy as an important factor in monitor work. Miss Marjorie Rhodes announced her intentions to resume our "Good Citizenship" drive and to use the monitor squad as an aid in this work.

The captains held a meeting the previous day to report on the work of each period and to receive instructions for directing their individual periods.

The captains are:
Bob Back—First period.
Bob Stillwagon—Second period.
Alfred Hook—Third period.
Carl Sherer—Fourth period.
David Fehl—Fifth period.
George Thomas—Sixth period.
Jess Badger—Seventh period.
Bob Green—Eighth period.
Wesley Double—Ninth period.

FIRE DRILLS

As annually occurs each fall, Ne-Ca-Hi has been practicing at this time almost every day to perfect its system of fire drills. Since theoretically the school should be vacated within a little more than two minutes, the drills have been called in order to bring the actual markas near the theoretical one as possible.

The drill sometimes comes at an inopportune time for the instructors, but is usually welcome to the pupils who delight in the few idle moments afforded by the interruption of classes.

GIRL RESERVE MEETING

The Y. W. C. A. was the scene of the first Girl Reserve meeting of this semester on Monday, September 26, at 7:30 o'clock.

President Jane Haven opened the meeting by welcoming new members and then introduced Miss Dorothy Stuart, who announced that there would be no regular meeting of Girl Reserves next week, but that a Chinese boy and a Chinese girl who attended the youth convention at Vassar college will speak at Senior high school Monday, October 3, and this will take its place.

President Haven then introduced the officers who are:
Vice president—Marion Brown.
Secretary—Suzanne Flick.
Treasurer—Audrey Eridenbaugh.

The next meeting will take place on Monday, October 10, 1938, promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

The remainder of the evening was spent in signing up for membership and paying dues at which time the girls were given membership cards which are necessary in order to obtain admittance to the meetings.

SENATUS ROMANUS AGAIN TO CONDUCT CAMPAIGN

As during several years previous, Ne-Ca-Hi's Latin club, the Senatus Romanus, will again sponsor the distribution of the high school's own pencil among the student body. Perennially a favorite among the pupils, the design of the pencil is quite different from editions of previous years. It is octagonal in shape and in red enamel with a black inscription of the high school's name and motto, "Perge Modum."

Jane Morris has been appointed chairlady of the committee for distribution, which will begin early next week.

FIRST MEETING OF SENATUS ROMANUS

On Friday morning, the third period, the Senatus Romanus held its first regular meeting of the year in the cafeteria. Consul Primus, Sam Davy, presided over the group and introduced the semester's new officers. They are: Marian Brown, consul secunda, Marian Hildebrand, scriba; and Constance Watt, quaestor.

Following the routine matters of business, appointments were made to the standing committees of the Senate. Those named follow: Program committee, Helen Love, chairman; Warren White, Wilma Warsse, and Rose Costa; social committee, Helen McCommon, chairman; Dorothy Hayes, Oliver Elser, Suzanne Flick and Kathryn Wilson; initiation committee, Nell Young, chairman; Maxine Templeton, Robert Meermans and Irwin Masters; nominating committee, Edward Fortney, chairman; Jean Dufford, Dorothy Donegan and Marian Hughes.

It was explained that the club would again carry on the sale of Ne-Ca-Hi pencils, under the direction of a committee headed by Jane Morris and including Ed. Fortney, James Hewitt, Mary Margaret Flynn, Doris Leddy and Irwin Masters.

A debate then occurred concerning the advisability of the club's joining the nation-wide Junior Classical League. The matter was suspended by the Consul Primus, who directed Oliver Passer to look into the problem and report at the next meeting. He will be assisted by Shirline Foster, Doreatha Stewart and Barbara Matthews.

At the conclusion of the evening, the faculty advisor to the club, Miss Mary Van Divort, gave an inspiring pep talk on the sale of the pencils which the group is sponsoring.

NEW CASTLE-BEAVER FALLS PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Young Gridders To Battle In Stadium

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Will Go After Third Straight Victory; Two New Faces In Local Starting Lineup—Roberts and Makhill; Beaver Falls Will Send Big Team Here To Try For Victory; Second Class AA Game For New Castle; Expect Another Big Crowd For Game.

FRIENDLY rivals for many years, New Castle High and Beaver Falls High will send their respective "Red Hurricane" and "Tigers" eleven into action tonight at Taggart stadium under the lights in the third game of the year here. The kickoff at 8 o'clock, in event of good weather, will no doubt find another fine crowd on hand.

New Castle High will try hard to run its victory string to three straight tonight, after having vanquished Butler and Youngstown East in the first two encounters. Beaver Falls will send a big team here to try and halt the locals. A lively battle is looked for by the followers of both teams.

Two New Faces
There will be two new faces in the New Castle starting lineup tonight—Larry "Streak" Roberts, the colored boy, will replace Eddie Sowinski at left half, and Eric Makhill will go to left tackle in place of Steve Kulnis, who has been converted into an end in place of the injured Wilbur Phillips.

Roberts showed his wares last week when he replaced Sowinski. When the latter was injured, and gained a warm place in the hearts of the fans by his clever ball handling. Kulnis has shown a lot of stuff at end this week and looks the part, both on defense and offense. This will be his first game at end.

The rest of the New Castle lineup will be the same as started the Youngstown East game, with Rousso at the other tackle, Castrucci and Big Jim Rucker at the guards, Adamo at center and Cialella, Gendler and Lauro in the backfield.

Beaver Falls is bringing a big team to this city. They lost quite a few vets last year and will have a rather inexperienced lineup, but in both the Mars and Monaca games they have shown a lot of stuff. Head Coach Frank Walton has been working the Falls boys hard this week. They would like to upset the "Red Hurricane" if possible.

Paul Goll, the injured Beaver Falls varsity center, may not get in the game here. He was hurt in the Monaca game. Walton has not said very much this week, but he was far from pleased by the defeat of 13 to 6 panted on the Tigers by Monaca, and there may be a few new faces in the starting lineup.

In Polinski, Beaver Falls has a very clever fullback, and a boy who may cause the locals some trouble tonight. Lyon and Welch will take care of the halfback spots, and are said to be very good, especially this boy Lyon, a fleet-footed youngster, with a lot of dash and zip in his makeup.

May Be Aerial Battle
It may be another battle in the clouds tonight. Both teams have vaulted forward passing attacks. New Castle has three or four men to throw them higher and you. Not many passes were tried by the New Castle team last week. They were too busy knocking down Youngstown heaves. But, don't sell the locals short on their inability to pass.

The "Red Hurricane" will not open up with any razzle-dazzle stuff unless they have to. Beaver Falls has a fine forward passing system and may take to the air if they find the going at the big New Castle line too tough.

Expect Big Crowd
Faculty Manager Scoots Nelson and his assistants are looking for another big crowd tonight if the weather conditions are right. Business Manager Robert Mills is as busy as a one-armed paper-hanger seeing to the sale of the tickets, and a hundred and one other details.

Beaver Falls will send 700 or 800 here for the game, and has asked for a reserved section of the west side steel bleachers. Those seats can be bought at the Cunningham avenue entrance. There will be possibly 400 or 500 for the New Castle fans.

Two Games Saturday
GROVE CITY, Sept. 30.—Local football fans will have a choice of two games here Saturday afternoon. The college team will open its season with Clarion Teachers, while the high school squad will play the strong Alliance O. high school.

Washington Hi Takes Victory

Defeat Shenango High Reserves 12 To 0 Thursday, Lee And Biddle Tally

The George Washington Junior High football team topped the Shenango High Reserves in the first of the 1938 season, yesterday at the Washington High field, by the score of 12 to 0, with Lee and Biddle doing the scoring in the first and fourth periods.

The Alexander coached team looked like champs yesterday as they downed the Shenango High Reserves in fine fashion. They will go to Sharpsville next Friday for a game.

Biddle-Lee Score
Washington kicked off to Shenango and Shenango punted after a few tries at the line. Washington then started a steady march down the field and Biddle, the captain of the North Hillers carried it over.

Several times in the second period the Wash High boys threatened to score but were held in check. The second Washington touchdown came in the last period when Lee smashed through the line.

The first downs were 11 to 1 in Wash High's favor. Eddie Stewart did a swell job of blocking. The entire Wash High line looked very good.

Stellar Bethany End

BOB HALER-END

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 30.—On the receiving end of a powerful pass-attack for the Bethany Bisons, who play Westminster Saturday, October 1, at New Wilmington, will be Bob Haler, 175-pound end, a two-letter man for the West Virginians.

Starting at terminal posts for Coach Washabaugh's Titans will probably be two freshmen, Merle Frisch of Erie, and Fred Brinkley, 180-pound transfer from Drake.

The game at New Wilmington is called for 2 o'clock.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Sport fodder...George Mike, rug-god ace of New Castle high and West Virginia Wesleyan football fame, is grid coach in a high school in West Virginia, according to George Deep...Lester "Bus" Reiber, who rates the top bracket in basketball here, will likely wear a Duquesne university uniform. "Bus" shouldn't have any difficulty making the freshman club.

Sport jottings...Plenty of football in the air today for local teams. Union township opens up with the New Castle high reserves, at Union field. Mahoningtown Union high entertaining Campbell, O. Ben Franklin, which turned out "Sireac" Roberts, travels to Struthers, O., equipped with a nifty set of pigskinners. Shenango high battles Zellenople and New Castle will try to make it three straight under the mazzdas. A grid menu such as this should satisfy the most dyed-in-the-wool fan.

Today's gridiron question...What are the methods of going down under passes?...There are five, namely: outrunning the defensive man, cutting away from the defensive man, stopping to catch the ball, coming back toward the passer and change of pace.

A dash of this and that...Chandler, one of the pitching nobs on the New York Yankees staff, may see the world series from the bench, due to a kink in his arm. Note to Pitt Panthers: Sophomore Ray Malouf of Southern Methodist university completed 92 per cent of his forward passes with the freshman club last fall. Hank Greenberg got a break the other day. He didn't have to take a day off as Rush Hasmann occurred on a Tiger day off. Fourteen out of 15 New York Yankees farm clubs finished one, two, three this season.

Dots and dashes...In Albuquerque, N. M., a brand new form of football practice was originated. Twenty-one gridirers from New Mexico university gathered under a radio tower, 300 feet high, while a catapult dropped footballs. The coach's idea was to test the players' ability to judge the course of the ball—and to catch the oval. Wonder if this idea was copied from the Cleveland Indians?...Only two shut-outs have been recorded in Sportsmen's park this season. The latest thing Louisiana State has done—bought a new plane for their grid scouts. Joe DiMaggio's 40-ounce bat is the heaviest in the American league.

Franklin High Tops Struthers

A pass in the third period, Maggie to Parou from the 40-yard line, gave the Ben Franklin high team a 7 to 0 victory Thursday afternoon over the fast Struthers Junior high team at the Struthers field. It was the opening game of the 1938 season for the Gillaspie-coached team. It was also a pass from Maggie to Parou that gave the East Siders their extra point. In first downs the locals had the edge at 7 to 1. Sands scored in the fourth period, but an off-side penalty spoiled the touchdown. Sands made consistent long gains through the Struthers line.

Maggie Fine Passer
Maggie was a sensation in forward pass tossing, making the amazing record of 10 heaves and seven of them were good for gains. On the line the work of Sarazzo, Pugh and Thomas stood out quite nicely. Bashara of the local team, received a leg injury on the kickoff and may be out for the balance of the year.

Assisting Head Coach Emmet Gillespie with the Franklin team yesterday, were Assistant Coaches George Bunder and "Bill" Wallace.

The summary:
Ben Franklin 7 Struthers 0.

Titans Are Ready For Battle With Bethany

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 30.—Coach Grover Washabaugh sent 35 Titans through their final rough blocking drills this week and minor leg injuries cropped up in the tentative starting lineup as tackle Dan Mamula, Pittsburgh, and guard William Ruffie, Pittsburgh, suffered ankle and knee sprains. Washabaugh's starters against Bethany Saturday will be a veteran array with the exception of possible first year names at the left end and fullback posts. Using a single and double wing attack with variations, the tentative Titan first string eleven will be either Frisch, or Miller, left end; Brinkley, right end; Mamula and DePaulis at the tackles; Ruffie and Youkers at guards, and co-captain Throop at center. Quarterbacked by Julius Laposki, the other backfield posts may be filled by Valicenti, Edwards, Ptau, Wright, Rid, Black, Dunmire, Riblet, Shoup and Eganoff. With two complete backfields ready for the opener with Bethany Saturday, Washabaugh hopes to find a good climax runner to pace the Titans in scoring territory.

Covelli And Retardo Box Aliquippa Boys

Moran Hopes To Smash
Robinson's Jinx Over
Him Monday

RUBIN-POPESKI
BOUT LOOKS GOOD

Nick Retardo, Ellwood City, and Armand Covelli, New Castle, two watch winners because of their participation in the most thrilling bout the night they unfurled gloves in this city against different opponents, are calendared for action against Aliquippa fighters Monday night.

Covelli has been matched to swap punches with Warren Shaw and Nick will fight Nick Frederick. Covelli is a squatty southpaw. His foe is a port-sider. Retardo uses a right effectively, likewise his friendly enemy, Nick Frederick.

Just how good Warren and Nick are remains to be seen, but it is a cinch they would not have agreed to fight if they did not believe they could bring home the bacon. Indications are that before they do, they will have had to fight hard for it.

Retardo lost his first fight to Eddie Brant. It was a vicious one.
He came back to fight Bob Anderson and it proved the most exciting bout of the right and Nick got the Pereleman watch. In his next bout, Nick dropped Jimmie Cordova three times and copped the bout.

When Covelli returned from Canton he was not in very good condition and while his fight with George Masters was fast, it was seen he could do better. Covelli scored the only knockdown in the battle, it being produced in the third round.
The fans were somewhat at odds as to who won the bout. However, the officials gave the nod to Covelli and when he battled Wesley Rodgers of Grove City, a crowd turned out and certainly witnessed one of the best fights yet staged by the Jefferson A. C.

That fight occurred September 8 and the only knockdown was scored by Covelli. He dropped the Grove City lad in the opening round. Rodgers put up such a scrap in the other chapters the fans were cheering for him but the officials gave Armand the bout.

Heavy Punching Prospective
Mickie Rubin, the wallowing light-heavyweight from the South Side, who can knock out a foe with either hand, regardless of stance, will take on rugged Joe Popeski.
Should Joe be able to stand the "going" like he did for a time with Shelton Bell, it should be a good fight.

Johnny Como, of Meadville, will accompany Joe Popeski here. Como is a game kid. He took on Johnny Pelai in his only appearance here.
During that trip into the ropes he found himself twice on the floor in the opening round.

However, not daunted by the knockdowns he got up and finished the bout on the short end of the string. Monday night he will face Warren Kabias, of Warren, at 160 pounds. According to those who have seen Kabias he knows his punches.

It was he, Tommy Leach reports, who put the cleaner on Young Stanley Ketchell, whom Robert
Labera took to the Pacific coast.
Their fight took place in a Warren, O., ring. Kabias hopes to install himself a favorite here by beating Como.

A Niles, O., district Golden Gloves champ, Jack Swoyer, will try conclusions with Frankie Genaro, of Youngstown, at 155. Usually no one wins one of those Golden Gloves titles unless they have more than a pair of gloves laced around their wrists.

Jimmie Scutell, of Oil City, a flyweight, or 112 pound boxer, will meet Johnny Morrell, of Youngstown. Scutell lost to Leo Burnett, of Youngstown, July 18. He boxed previously to Morrell. He hopes to even up with Johnny Monday night.

Frankie Pines For Victory
Jess Robinson, a 135 pound brother to Smokey, will oppose George Long of Niles, in the opening bout and the feature, or last bout of the night will find Smokey Robinson and Frankie Moran in the limelight.

Most fans believe that Smokey is a "bogeyman" so far as Frankie is concerned. However, Moran believes different. He has said he will start punching from the time the first bell rings until someone goes down.
Who that one who goes down isn't known here—Monday will tell.

The Jefferson A. C. has requested the management of The Arena to enlarge the seating capacity for Monday night because of the rivalry between Moran and Robinson.
Moran yearns to win and Smokey reports that if a knockout is scored it will be him and not Frankie Moran who will register it.

Pirates Again Fold Up, Drop To Cubs 10-1

Lefty Lee Wins His Twenty-
Second Game, Pirates
About Out Of Pennant Race

By CHESTER YOULL
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Coming away from their series with the Pittsburgh Pirates in as good shape as any team the most rabid partisan could hope for, the Chicago Cubs today moved to St. Louis for the season windup.

In first place by a game and a half after sweeping the three-game series with the Bucs, they must simply match strides with them the rest of the way in order to win the pennant.

The situation as it stands today is this: The Cubs have three games with St. Louis. The Pirates have four with Cincinnati. The Pirates play a double-header with the Reds today as the Cubs engage St. Louis in a single game.

Crucial Day

A twin disaster for the Pirates as the Cubs were winning, would put it on ice tonight for the Chicagoans.
At any rate they will be able to lose as many games as the Pirates to finish on top. If Pittsburgh breaks even in the four games, the Cubs would have to win only one from St. Louis.

The last of the series between the two clubs yesterday was something of an anti-climax to the thrillers of the preceding days. With Bill Lee holding the losers to seven hits, the Cubs rang up a 10 to 1 triumph, partly due to three Pittsburgh errors. It was Lee's 22nd win of the season.

Manager Gabby Hartnett, who drove out a ninth inning home run to win the game the day before, caught a foul tip on the end of his forefinger yesterday and will be out of the lineup for a day or two.

In the other National League games Cincinnati kept close behind the New York Giants in a bid for third place with a 7 to 4 victory over St. Louis.

The Polo Grounds' smallest crowd of the season, 1,190, saw the Giants beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 9-2.
The Brooklyn Dodgers split a double-header with the Boston Bees, after winning the opener, 2 to 1,
the Bees lost 9 to 6.

The champion New York Yankees whipped the Philadelphia Athletics in the first game of a doubleheader, 7 to 4. The second game was left at a 1 to 1 tie.

Hank Greenberg failed to add to his total of 58 home runs as Tommy Bridges registered his 13th win of the year and Detroit took the heavy end of a 6 to 2 score against the St. Louis Browns.

The Boston Red Sox clinched second place in the American League by a 12 to 5 win over the Washington Senators.
Cleveland dealt a 10-inning 9 to 8 blow to the Chicago White Sox.

College Grid Season Gets Away In State

Feature battle of what promises to be an exciting football week-end for district fans should be the Penn State-Maryland flare-up at State College on Saturday. Using similar systems of play, both State and the Terrapins offer a smart, fast, spectacular brand of football. Each team throws caution to the winds and relies on offensive power rather than defensive strength to win games.
Maryland, led by "Jarvis" Jim Meads, All-Southern halfback, returns with last year's lineup almost intact. Penn State, although Harry Harrison is still around, has been

Smith's 1938 model. Despite the fact that Duquesne seems able to generate power as of other years, the rough and tough Texans get our vote over the Night Riders. Our guess: Texas Tech 13, Duquesne 7.
From Philadelphia comes a statement from Glenn S. "Pop" Warner to the effect that he will retire as a football coach once he has led his Temple University Owls through an undefeated season. Mr. Warner will be around next year, for in Philadelphia Saturday afternoon his Temple has an appointment to entertain Jock Sutherland's nasty Panthers. Temple is strong defensively and slippery Hal Stebbins may not play because of a broken nose received in the West Virginia game. These two factors may keep the score down to: Pittsburgh 20, Temple 0.
Carnegie Tech, beginning its second football campaign under Bill Kem's leadership, opens at home tomorrow against Davis-Elkins. Injuries to key men have hampered Tech's training grind, and the Stribos will probably not reach full strength for another week or two.
Kem's cripples, however, are still powerful enough to mow down the Maroon-and-White with ease: Carnegie Tech 26, Davis-Elkins 0.
The Pennsylvania-Lafayette clash scheduled for Saturday shapes up as being one of the most interesting games of the week-end. On the one hand Hooks Mylin, "All-American" coach last year at Lafayette, will be striving to chalk up the start of another unbeaten and untied season. On the other hand, Pennsylvania is inaugurating a new coaching regime under young George Munger and is anxious to remove the memory of last season's dismal record. Penn is blessed with an array of select talent; Lafayette has a veteran crew. With an eye open for a convenient hole in which to crawl, we predict: Pennsylvania 19, Lafayette 6.

Our prize prediction for last week was a 27-0 verdict in favor of Holy Cross over Providence. The Crusaders obligingly rang up 28 touchdowns to beat Providence 28-0. Second best prophecy was one in which we picked Dartmouth to defeat Bates 41-0. The Indians, second-ranking team in the east, walloped little Bates 46-0. On all games predicted, our right-and-wrong percentage was 83%.

In addition to forecasts already made, we offer the following prophecies for today and Saturday:
Western Res. 27, Youngstown 0
Albright 20, Geneva 6
St. Vincent 33, Thiel 0
Bucknell 20, Gettysburg 0
Cornell 34, Colgate 7
Columbia 14, Yale 7
Dartmouth 38, St. Lawrence 0
Boston U. 20, Lehigh 7

Spectacular Response To Peace Developments In
New York Trading

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The stock market made a spectacular response today to the peace developments abroad.

Stocks boomed 1 to 4 points at the opening under a wave of buying which sent the high speed ticker behind, profit-taking on the bulge out the rains later but the undertone remained strong.

So heavy was the early buying that several leading stocks did not sell until some time after the opening. U. S. Steel was 25 minutes late, Chrysler and General Motors 16 minutes late. This reflected the congestion of buying orders on specialists' books.

Big blocks were common in opening dealings and wide gains. U. S. Steel started with 10,000 shares up 2 1/2. General Motors 10,000 shares up 1 1/2. Chrysler 8,000 shares up 3 1/2. N. Y. Central 8,000 shares up a point. Radio 6,000 shares up a fraction, and General Electric 5,000 shares up 1 1/2.

Big gains were general elsewhere. International Business Machines jumped over 9 points. Case Thrashing started 3 higher and then added 2 more, aided by a 55-cent dividend. Gains of 2 to 4 points were scored by a long list of issues including United States Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Hiram Walker, DuPont, Johns Manville, Westinghouse and Bethlehem Steel.

Trading quieted down considerably after the opening rush. Indicative of the tremendous early buying demand was turnover of 790,000 shares alone in the first hour.

Ellwood High Plays
Rochester Saturday
At Lincoln Field

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 30.—Whatever the outcome of Ellwood high school's football game with Rochester high at Lincoln field on Saturday afternoon may be, the blue and white will be the winners for it will be the Lawrence county blue and white aggregation against the Beaver county blue and white.

With three wins to their credit the Croftmen are riding high and hope to make Rochester another victim. A feat they haven't been able to accomplish for many a year.

In past years Rochester has been a "waterloo" for the local eleven, but the blue and white and their fans are confident that they can put Rochester in their own black ink column this year. If the locals are victorious, it will mark the second time this season that Coach Ernie Meyer's Rochesterites have had to clip into the red ink to mark their records.

Last year the Valley team topped Ellwood 7-0 when they scored in the final minutes of play. However, the local crew were without the services of four regulars in that game, they having sustained injuries in a Wellsville game. But that will not be the case this year for the team is in the best physical condition that they have been since the opening game. Coach Croft thinks his team is improving greatly, especially in co-ordination and smooth clicking interference.

From advance reports Rochester's defense surpasses its offense. While Ellwood will have the heavier line, the visiting backfield will outweigh the locals. Rochester has won from Freedom and lost to Midland this year.

The game will begin at 2:30 p. m. with McClure, Mellman and Lewis as officials. Jack Snare will be acting captain for Ellwood.

Coach Harold Bury's Junior Grids, but the blue and white and their fans are confident that they can put Rochester in their own black ink column this year. If the locals are victorious, it will mark the second time this season that Coach Ernie Meyer's Rochesterites have had to clip into the red ink to mark their records.

The lineup:

Ellwood: Miller, Bartle, Biggins, Fishoner, Keller, Parks, Cunningham, Kolch, Snare, Jones, Newton.

Rochester: Miller, Bartle, Biggins, Fishoner, Keller, Parks, Cunningham, Kolch, Snare, Jones, Newton.

Chamber Of Commerce Endorses Program With Regard To Bridge Street

SCHILL RE-NAMED FOR THREE YEARS

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 30.—The board of directors of the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce at their regular quarterly meeting last night endorsed the program for the state to take over bridge street from the borough line to Wampum avenue.

A special request will be sent to council asking that body to do everything in their power to also have the state take over this now hazardous stretch of road. The chamber body all declared that having Bridge street taken over as a state road is one of the most worthy projects needed in the community at the present time.

Chamber Deputy Denny Schill was tendered a three-year contract by the board and accepted. The chamber secretary had just completed his first two-year contract on September 1st of this year.

Action was also taken by the board to petition the State Department of Revenue to put out a better grade of inspection sticker so that it will not be destroyed when a car is washed a few times.

President C. W. Carbeau appointed A. E. Conner, Ralph Herge and another to be named, along with Chamber Secretary Denny Schill, as a city 50th anniversary committee to work with General Chairman William McGilney on the celebration to be held next summer. Other members will be named by the borough council.

The merchants endorsed the merchants division plan on the Halloween celebration and Christmas parade that will be held here in the near future.

President Carbeau appointed a nominating committee of Edward Mackasek, chairman; Carl Davidson and Ralph Herge to have a nomination ballot of officers for the December meeting.

This nominating committee will also direct the voting for new directors to be held in November. The term of four members of the present board expires in December. They are: Wayne Siever, Nelson Crawford, E. B. Yahn and Nelson Ryan.

Dr. C. C. Green
Urges Extension
Of Youth Program

Tells Rotarians Underprivileged Boys And Girls Should Be Included

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 30.—Dr.

C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools and president of the New Castle Rotary club urged the extension of all youth programs to include underprivileged boys and girls in his address before the local Rotary club last evening in the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. Green called attention to how sad an illustration as the Y. M. C. A. might develop away from its original purpose and become simply a young men's club. He felt it was a misuse of public chest funds to appropriate them for Scout Troops for privileged boys when underprivileged boys were neglected. Eighty per cent of the boys at Morgana come from underprivileged homes and seventy-five per cent of the boys at the George Junior Republic had come from the same type of homes.

Rotarians might furnish membership in youth organizations for boys and girls of that class.

Dr. Green quoted Judge Braham as advocating the plan of individuals assuming the responsibility of a paroled boy. He emphasized the importance of adequate recreational facilities, saying this was of more importance than maintaining a winning athletic team.

In answer to questions, he gave broken homes and frustration as primary causes of juvenile delinquency, which he said was one of the major problems of America.

As special guests, the club entertained the Rotary troop scout who helped with the recent field meet together with their scoutmaster, Charles Brown and Nelson Kennedy.

President Harold Burns was in charge and expressed his appreciation of the splendid delegation of 21 Rotarians who attended the Round-up at Butler last Monday.
